

Hail Suppression Group To Ask For Dec. Plebiscite

A general meeting called by the Mountain View Hail Suppression Association filled the Lions hall to capacity on Thursday evening, November 6th.

Purpose of the meeting was to decide what should be done about hail suppression in 1959. Under chairmanship of Mr. Wm. Lore of Midway, current business was carried out with dispatch.

It was almost unanimously agreed to ask the Municipal Council of Mountain View to hold a plebiscite on or about December 15th, if possible. A boundary proposal was presented to the meeting by directors of the local association, and was accepted. It was agreed that two separate plebiscites should be held, both on the same day. The largest area would be the southeast corner of the M.D. The north side of the area would be the north boundary of Township 31, and the west side would be a line midway in Range 2, west of the 5th.

The second area would include all of Range 3, west of the 5th and the west half of Range 2, west of the 5th, and north to the north boundary of Township 31.

A review of 1958 operations in the Kneehill and Rockyview Municipal districts was given by company representative, Mr. W. R. Connor. Mr. Lloyd McSorley, company manager of Calgary, also spoke briefly.

Woman Gets A Mink; The Hard Way

Last Friday morning Mrs. Solveig Clarke heard a commotion in her chicken house. On investigating she found four freshly killed hens and a wild mink hiding in the corner of the building. Mrs. Clarke picked up a stick and struck the animal, stunning it, and then remembering how ferocious the little beast can be, she retreated to the house to call her son Ernie to come and shoot it. Ernie was too tired to get up as he had sat with his sick grandfather all night, but he told his mother where to find the 22 rifle. The mink was still there when she returned and one well aimed shot was enough. Mrs. Clarke says she can sell the pelt for enough to reimburse her for the dead hens.

FIGHTING RUST WITH CHEMICALS

The recent discovery by plant scientists at the Canada Department of Agriculture Research Laboratory, Winnipeg, of a relatively simple and inexpensive chemical, viz., nickel chloride, for the control of stem rust of wheat is a step forward in the never-ending battle against this very destructive plant disease. However, as research progresses, it becomes more and more evident that the solution of the stem rust problem is not a simple one.

Chemical Control Impractical. Over 60 years ago, partial control of rust was obtained by applying chemicals to growing plants of wheat. The results of these early investigations as well as the more intensive studies of recent years, have shown that certain chemicals, if applied at the right time and in sufficient quantity, usually will reduce and suppress wheat stem rust. Nevertheless, the economic return from such a rust control practice are still problematical. In some years it would be profitable, in other years it would be an economic loss. Consequently, it is not yet possible to recommend that chemicals be used as a practical rust control measure in the production of commercial grain crops in the Prairie Provinces.

Resistant Varieties. The use of rust-resistant varieties is, of course, the simplest and most effective method of controlling rust. Through the use of modern breeding methods and improved techniques for testing a large number of hybrids, it can be expected that Canadian plant breeders will be able to develop new rust-resistant varieties of wheat that will provide some protection at least against the sudden appearance of a new destructive race of stem rust, such as 15B1. Chemicals, even today, must be considered only as a second-best method to the use of resistant varieties in the fight against rust.

Ramblin' and Roamin'

True Enough — It's Been Good . . .

We're ramblin' here about the weather in this area — hasn't it been the finest in many a year? However, by the time you read this we script we may or may not be, knee deep in snow. That's the way the weather performs in these parts. The golf clubs may be put away in the attic or the cellar, the hockey sticks and curling rocks may be getting a small shoe shine in preparation for the coming season. In a way we do hope that winter sports will get into action before too long. We'd like to see the snow fly. We've had a good, good spring and summer and the fine harvest weather certainly didn't hurt us. Now let's take a breather and see how the winter season treats us . . . whatever it may be we can't argue about the performance of the weatherman in '36. He must be on our side this time around.

Local Merchants in Action . . .

The majority of merchants in Didsbury will hold their annual shopping carnival, starting the tail-end of this month. This event gives everyone a chance to pick up some bargains and move in on some line prizes. Over and above the bargains and prizes, the shopping carnival brings to "our town" the necessary green backs to make it a better town.

Something Borrowed . . .

Many Albertans are wondering why the Alberta government has put out a feeler on the new idea of an Industrial Tax. Has it come to the stage where the people of Alberta are demanding more services than our present high standard of revenues can buy? The trial balloons which were sent up to test the sales tax idea burst in an attitude of disapproval, so now we are confronted by the Industrial Tax idea. This tax is one which can be unloaded onto the party of the second part. Is this wise? Should industrial development in Alberta be burdened with a tax like this in its infant stages? Give this problem serious thought.

Plebiscite Delays School Plans . . .

Plans of the Board of the Old School Division for the huge school building program which would have seen schools built at Olds, Sundre, Cremona, Carstairs and Didsbury will have to wait the outcome of a plebiscite to be held December 8th.

This action follows receipt by the Board of the Division of the required number of petitions asking that the plebiscite be held.

At a meeting in Didsbury recently members of the divisional board appointed J. B. Ludwig, division secretary, as returning officer and set the date of December 8th for the holding of the poll.

Polls will be set up in each of the separate school districts within the division where a school is open. Other school district voters will be directed to polls within the division.

Notices of the impending vote must be posted in every operating school and near every post office. Notices will also be published within all newspapers published within the division.

Setting the machinery for the plebiscite in motion were board chairman, Tom Morris, and trustees, G. Z. VanHatten, Bob Rankin, and Bill Richards.

THE FARMERS AND THEIR OWN ORGANIZATION

The farmers of Alberta are in the thick of a membership campaign this week. It is very important that they sign up as great a percentage of actual farmers as possible. We know there will be a certain few who will shy away. Some of these will shy away on account of the pittance demanded as membership. Some will shy away for the fringe reason that they don't find the Farmers' Union of Alberta doing all things to their liking. Some will, like in our own organization of weekly publishers, shy away for the simple reason that they expect the benefits to come their way anyway or, in other words, willingly ride on the backs of the fellowmen for their own selfish gain.

We are all for each industry or group to be organized for its own protection, and even go so far as to say that the urban businessmen should lend a hand in farmer organization. We have felt that in many instances the farm leaders have made serious mistakes in judgment and policy . . . but they have learned the ropes by experience.

The Alberta farm organization has been very ably led in recent years and it is very important now that membership strength should be placed in the hands of the executive. Our advice to farmers is to quickly buy up their own memberships and acquire that feeling of "belonging" to that great group of producers of human food. Farming is rapidly evolving from a crude and unorganized "calling" into a highly technical industry.

THE Homemaker

By HELEN BOWARD
District Home Economist

DEAR HOMEMAKER:

This week I decided to include some unusual problems which have been received throughout the year on interior decorating and which may be of interest to some homemakers with similar problems.

1. Is it possible to lay linoleum the over asphalt?

"It is not recommended to lay linoleum tile over asphalt because asphalt, rather than wearing smoothly as most flooring materials do, breaks away and becomes ragged. The linoleum would wear in these places very rapidly. It would be much wiser to remove the asphalt, cover the plywood with flooring felt and then lay the linoleum tile."

2. How could one go about plantered design in a living room?

"Vacuuming the ceiling is one suggestion; another is to scrub or sponge with a brush, however, this involves more work. Spraying it with paint would be the best solution."

3. What could be used to cover up chips on porcelain enameled appliances?

"FRICTION can be used on most appliances, but where exposed to heat like in the case of stoves, darkens in color. Liquid porcelain enamel is also available and is also used on appliances."

4. How could one estimate the amount of paint required to paint a room?

"To calculate how much wall paint is needed, multiply the length of the area to be covered by the height and divide this result by 550. This gives the number of gallons required. (Calculation should be in feet.)"

5. Does it matter if food dis-colors the utensils?

"It is necessary to be concerned about the effect that foods sometimes have on the appearance of a pan or the way the material used in the pan may affect the color or flavor of food. As an exception, is the greenish or bluish deposit sometimes found on copper, which is toxic."

Acid foods, such as tomatoes, lighten aluminum; alkalies such as water, potatoes and eggs, darken aluminum; coffee allowed to stand in a metal pot, sometimes tastes metallic; creamed sauces and custards may become grayish when stirred with metal spoons or cooked in aluminum or iron pans. These changes may make the pan unattractive or the food unappetizing, but they are not harmful."

Alberta has registered another first. The government is to be congratulated on the excellent planning that has resulted in opening a new stretch of the first divided highway to be built by any of the three prairie provinces or British Columbia.

Several features in connection with this newly opened stretch of modern highway are deserving of special mention. The new southern section of Highway No. 2 is designed to carry axle loads to 37,000 pounds. It will accommodate heavy transport loads, and should therefore please the trucking industry. There are said to be no grades greater than 5.7 per cent, a most important factor on a highway designed to carry heavy trucking. Of still greater importance to the motoring public is the added safety factor of a clear vision distance of 900 feet relating to curves and dips in the highway.
This should help cut down the accident rate. Eystrain and blinding oncoming headlights will also be greatly lessened by the centre boulevard, particularly in areas where shrubs are planted between the east and west lanes.

Motorists are outstoken in their praise of the sixty-eight mile stretch of highway opened last Friday by Premier Manning. In fact, the highway is so good that police will have to maintain rigid controls in this area to discourage speed fiends who are unable to resist the combination offered by a powerful car and a good straight stretch of modern highway. Unfortunately the accident record is highest on the best highways in Canada and the United States, and speeding has been proven a major accident factor.

The government has now provided a first class highway from Red Deer to Calgary. Speaking to the crowd assembled at Antler Hill for the opening ceremonies Premier Manning expressed the hope that the divided highway design would aid in cutting the accident toll.
Only the motoring public and truckers can make this new highway accident-free by observing highway regulations and keeping within sane speed limits

WEDDINGS

MOORE — GRAHAM

The Fallen Timber Four-square church was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Saturday, Oct.
18th at 3 p.m. when Dorothy Jean Graham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs.
Jim Graham of Olds, and William Harvey, son of Harvey Moore of Westward Ho, were united in the bonds of holy matrimony. Rev. R.
Moore officiated.

The bride was preceded down the aisle by three little flower girls: Judy Moore, niece of the groom, Jeanne Howton and Nancy Rice, who were daintily attired in nylon with light pastel shades of lilac yellow and pink.

Edythe Quinn of Toronto as bridesmaid and Mrs. Dorothy Moore, sister of the groom, as matron of honor, wore nylon and net dresses of yellow and blue, with matching feather hats and gloves, and carried bouquets of carnations.

Escorted down the aisle by her father, the bride wore a gown of white satin cut in princess style, with cummerbund bow. The tulleau neckline was tastefully finished with seed pearls. Her fingertip illusion veil misted from a pearl-studied tiara. She carried a bouquet of pink roses. Her only jewelry was a solid four leaf clover pendant, a gift of the groom's aunt, Mrs. O. Moore.

The groom was attended by Robert Moore and Leonard Wright, with Billy Graham and Larry Rice as ushers.

The bride's mother chose a royal blue dress and hat with black accessories. Mrs. Moore wore a wine colored suit with black accessories.

During the signing of the register
Mrs. J. Howton sang "A Wedding Prayer."

A reception was held at the school for 75 guests. The bride's table was centred with a beautiful three-tiered wedding cake. The toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. J. Howton, responded to by the groom.

For travelling the bride donned a beige chemise dress with black accessories and a white gardenia.
Upon their return they will reside in Calgary.

COYOTE CONTROL:

The Agricultural Service Board, at a meeting held on October 31st, discussed the matter of a poison program for the winter months. Reports from various localities within this municipality were reviewed concerning the presence or absence of coyotes in this district and the conclusion was reached that there aren't sufficient coyotes around to warrant the use of 1080 bait.

We feel that any local build-up of coyote population can be dealt with by the use of strychnine pellets, of which we have a good supply at all times and they are free for the asking.

It has never been our policy to completely eliminate the coyote.
Some people think we should, while others believe in a "balance of nature."

If you have an individual case where coyotes are molesting your flock of turkeys or sheep, let me say again that the strychnine pellets and cyanide guns are fully effective and are easy to handle when you exercise a few basic precautions. All you need do is contact me at the municipal office, where our stock is kept. I will gladly demonstrate to you how and where to set these devices in order to let the "killer coyote" that may be molesting your flock.

Mr. LaVerne Neufeld, who is a senior this year, is president of the Associated Body of the college and doing a good piece of work in getting the organization of the college functioning. Stewart Plinn has been elected president of the junior class and Mr. Ormand Sherok, a fourth year student, is president of the seniors.

These two major societies of the college have their regular class meetings and are sponsored by two faculty members chosen by the respective groups. The junior advisor is Miss Gladys Eby and the senior, Rev. D. M. Taylor.

The World Wide Gospel Messengers Society is also functioning very actively under the leadership of Mr. Fred Martin, a senior, as its president, and is sponsored this year by Mrs. Auburn Witt.

The "Annual" staff is well organized under the combined efforts of two editors, Mrs. Lavern Traub and Mrs. LaVerne Neufeld. They have chosen as their sponsor, Rev. Auburn Witt. Then, of course, there is the social committee with the chairman chosen from the student body; this year it's Miss Ann Snyder. Mr. Leonard DeWitt is also busy as director of the Gospel Service League of the College.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Baughman were guests of the college this last week. Mr. Baughman is preaching in Taylor, B.C., with the Nazarene church. They are both graduates of the college.

This week special services will be conducted in the United Missionary church and the college will be taking a definite part in the program. Next week classes will be curtailed somewhat so that students and faculty may take their share of the responsibilities for these services. Rev. Bacon of Indiana is the dynamic speaker and will be the evangelist, as well as taking the chapel service each morning at 11:15 a.m.

WESTCOTT SENIOR W.I.
PLAN "FAMILY PARTY"

Westcott Senior W.I. met at the home of Mrs. Raymond Shantz on November 7th, with 12 members and two visitors present. Roll call was answered by bringing "something new from something old." These articles were auctioned off by Mrs. C. Rinehart.

A report of the executive meeting was given by Mrs. Shantz. The five-minute talk was given by Mrs. Ed Klinek and the "bit of fun" by Mrs. B. Tuglie.

A quilt will be finished at once for sale to an interested buyer in British Columbia.

The annual Institute "family party" will be held on November 28 at the home of Mrs. Burr Tuglie.

LIGHT YOUR WAY . . .

... WITH BIBLE STUDY

A man, 84 years old, was asked how old he was. He said: "Four years old." How was that? "Four years ago I became a Christian. I was regenerated, new-born. So I am only four years old." Christians are twice-born people; first, according to the flesh; second, according to the Spirit.

Scripture states: "You were dead in trespasses and sins." Again it says: "The carnal mind is enmity against God." And, once more: "The natural man receiveth not the things of the Spirit of God; for they are foolishness unto him; neither can he know them, because they are spiritually discerned." On the basis of this, Scripture thus portrays natural man as being spiritually blind, dead, and an enemy to God. This being true, man therefore is unable to save himself, even as it is impossible for a blind man to find his own way; a dead man to help himself; an enemy to find peace.

The Holy Spirit, through Word and Sacrament, turns us from darkness to light; infuses new life, purifies the emotions, renews the will; changes us from enemies of Jesus to lovers of Jesus. Thus the Holy Spirit changed Paul from a Jesus-hater to a Jesus-lover. This work that the Holy Spirit does for us may be called conversion or regeneration. But the means He uses to effect this change is the Word, the Gospel and the Sacraments.

Let us sum up this fact in God's own Word: "By grace are ye saved, through faith, and that not of yourselves; it is the gift of God, not of works, lest any man should boast." And thus, once again, friend, do not close your heart to the Word, for "it is the power of God unto salvation to everyone that believeth."

CANADIAN FADDISTS SPEND $15,000,000 A YEAR
ON HEALTH FOODS

Over 150,000 Canadian families now spend at least $100 each, or a total of $15,000,000 for health foods annually. Liberty magazine reported recently.

Faddists buy tablets of compressed weeds; spend up to $98 for the family-size jar of "Royal Jelly," a product of the honey bee. Research scientists claim the jelly is everything from a "nerve food" to a "beauty aid." Weight gains; return to normal sleep habits; and euphoria, or a feeling of ecstatic happiness were reported by over half of the elderly patients, treated with the jelly by a French doctor, Henri Destrém.

"Refined foods are shunned by the faddists," Liberty says. "They prefer home-baked bread from stone ground whole flour; molasses, honey or dark brown sugar; fresh fruit juices; and food grown without the use of chemical fertilizers." Medical doctors agree with health food people, that honey is more beneficial than white sugar. Lacking sunlight in winter, Canadians need vitamin D supplements, found in health foods.

Medical doctors are wary of health food boosters because they attract a fringe of crackpot cultists. "In most cases," the doctors say, "these health foods are supported by theories either unproven or just outrageously crazy." The article cites the case of a 25-year-old New Westminster, B.C. mother who died of starvation, the result of a so-called "health food" diet. The coroner could find no indication of disease in her body.

In many cases, Canadians are demanding over-refined foods, with much of the good processed out of them. J. W. Bacque, author of the article, states: "I found there's a place for the health faddist and his message. If the crazy cults would leave him alone, he might do all of us some good."

- How often a successful executive, far from his small-town birthplace — maintains his contacts through regular receipt of his weekly newspaper.
- There is nothing quite like a small town weekly for neighborly news and intimate contacts.
- People in the advertising business talk about selected audiences — sharply focused circulation. They have learned from experience that when a publication is specially edited to appeal to the specific interests of a smaller group of people, its opportunities to make sales are multiplied many times over.
- The weekly newspaper is that kind of publication. Whether its circulation is a few hundred or a few thousand, it represents effective circulation.
- Gather the towns-people and farm folk around you when you advertise. Surround yourself with friendly neighbors — deliver your advertising message through your local weekly newspaper.
